

To Whom;

On The morning of Feb. 6 2013 our home caught fire. We had heat detectors, smoke alarms and three fire extinguishers installed in the house. Thinking the fire was in the room with our wood stove that was where my son looked first. We believe the smoke and the heat detector woke our dog which woke our son. Not finding a fire in the wood room, he noticed a red glow in the partition wall. After using the fire EXT, the house filled with smoke so he closed off the back of the house woke everyone else up and got them outside. Later we found out the fire went under into the crawl space and up our head into the attic. As the fire progressed more alarms started sounding and could be heard while we waited for the fire dept. to arrive. Fortunately everyone got out, my son had time to get his important papers file and hat, we are great full no one was injured, the house was a TOTAL LOSS. Thanks for saving the ^{lives} ~~house~~ of everyone and the dog. We later found out the almans had a life time warranty and are really pleased to have them in our new place.

THANKS AGAIN
